

PRIVACY POLICY

We do guarantee the confidentiality of all personal data provided to us, as well as taking all security and personal data protection measures. Personal data is processed only within the European Union territory. The data is not passed on to third parties without your consent.

Contact form and contact via e-mail

By contacting us via the form or e-mail, you provide us in a natural way with your e-mail address as a sender address of a message. In addition, you can include other personal data in the content of a message. In this case, the legal basis for personal data processing is your consent resulting from initiating contact with our company. Your personal data provided to our company as part of an e-mail contact is processed only for the purposes required to handle your inquiry. The correspondence content may be archived.

Cookies

During the first visit to our website, information about the use of cookies is displayed. Accepting and closing this information means that you consent to the use of cookies in accordance with our hereby privacy policy provisions. You may withdraw your consent at any time by deleting cookies in your computer and changing cookie settings in your browser.

Cookies are small text information stored on your end device, e.g. a computer or a smartphone, which can be read by a tele-information system. The purpose of using cookies is a proper operation of our website and statistical reasons.

Server logs

Using the website is related to sending queries to the server where our website files are stored. Each query addressed to the server is saved in server logs. Logs include, among other, your IP address, the date and time, as well as information about your web browser and operating system. Logs are saved and stored on our server. These data is not associated with specific persons using our website and is not utilized by us for identification purposes. Logs are auxiliary material in the website administration, and their content is not disclosed to anyone except persons authorized to administer our website and server.

In connection with processing of your personal data by our company, you have the following rights:

- The right to request access to your personal data, as well as rectification, deletion or limitation of processing.
- The right to object to data processing,
- The right to data portability.
- The right to withdraw your consent to personal data processing for a specific purpose (if you have previously given such a consent).
- The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority in connection with the processing of personal data by our company.

You may exercise the above rights pursuant to the rules described in Articles 16 - 21 of the GDPR by contacting us via e-mail at: tadeusz.krawiec@dykret.com
